To the Holders of
MILITARY LAND WARRANTS.

THE Subscriber having lately returned from viewing the land, surveyed and appropriated to satisfy the land warrants, issued by the secretary at war, to the officers and soldiers of the late continental army; and having made arrangements with Mr. James Johnson, of Chester county, Pennsylvania, who he left on the land, and who with the assistance of an intelligent inhabitant of that county, will spend five months in exploring the different sections. He will take regular notes, descriptive of the soil, situation, and natural advantages attached to each section in the whole survey—which notes will be placed in the hands of the subscriber previous to the period for locating, thereby enabling him to make the most advantageous locations the priority will admit.

He offers his service to the holders of land warrants of the above description, throughout the United States, to receive their warrants, class them, (as no less quantity than 4000 acres will be registerd at the office of the treasury) have them registered agreeable to law, and attend to make the location at the the time appointed in February next.

For transacting the business, one tenth part of the land specified in the warrants will be required, and no other charge, except the postage of letters. All warrants forwarded and letters addressed to the subscriber, at No. 3, Penn-street, Philadelphia, will receive immediate attention.

PROPOSALS FOR PUBLISHING AN
HISTORY OF THE LIFE OF THE ILLUSTRIOUS
GEORGE WASHINGTON,
Commander in Chief of the American Armies during our revolutionary war with Great Britain, first President of the United States, and since, Lieutenant General of the Army.
BY JOSEPH SCOTT,
Author of the Modern Geographical Dictionary, in four volumes octavo.

OF the various methods which different writers pursue in order to convey useful knowledge to mankind, Biography stands confessedly among the first. There is none more interesting—none more instructive and entertaining. The histories of distinguished heroes, who have, by their exalted virtues, and noble and splendid actions, been the principal means of redeeming their respective countries from the corroding hand of tyranny, have in all ages been considered the most entertaining, instructive, and important to mankind. They afford example; and example is more powerful than precept. It strengthens, by a plain and easy mode of analogical reasoning, the principles of the timid, determines and fixes those that are wavering, and ultimately lays the basis for that harmony and coincidence of sentiment among the citizens; from which only, a nation can hope to derive rank, consequence and stability.

Impressed with lively sentiments of the eminent virtues of that distinguished HERO and PATRIOT, the history of whose life I have undertaken to write; it was not till after much reflection I resolved on issuing these proposals. —The following considerations induced me to this; First, having obtained in the course of an extensive correspondence, with many gentlemen of talents and information, a large stock of original materials concerning the life of this Illustrious Citizen; to give form and body to these, in the manner of history, will preserve many important things that otherwise would most probably be lost. Secondly, as many of the most interesting transactions of his life, since he resigned his commission as Commander in chief of our revolutionary armies, are very imperfectly recorded, and little understood; yet the greater part of them being fresh in the memories of many, this must be the fittest time to embody them; before a succession of objects, which every day brings forth, wears off the minuter circumstances There are many of these circumstances important and interesting; as it is universally acknowledged, that great actions, like immense rivers, flow from small beginnings.

CONDITIONS.

I. The Life of General Washington will contain nearly 400 pages octavo, printed on fine paper, and in a style of elegance equal to any work that has appeared from an American press.

II. It will be embellished with a striking likeness of the General, executed by one of the first artists.

III. Subscribers' names will be annexed, as patrons.

IV. Each subscriber is to pay two dollars, one half on subscribing, the remainder on the delivery of the work.

☞ Subscriptions in this city are received at No. 297 Arch street, next door to the north west corner of Eighth street.

Foreign Intelligence.

NANTES, October 28.

Yesterday about four in the evening a body of Chouans, to the number of six or seven hundred men, appeared at Oudon, and took possession of the inhabitant's houses.

The following night they attacked the post of Agrefeuille, composed of 30 men. The sentinel cried—Qui Vive? They answered, Royalists. He fired upon them, but the Chouans fell upon and knocked him down with the butt ends of their muskets; they then entered the Corps de Garde, and killed a few soldiers. Those who escaped reported the business to the municipality of Nantes.

October 29.

This day between four and five in the morning, a numerous troop of Chouans penetrated the city of Nantes by different places, crying Vive le Roi and la Religion. Immediately the Generale was beat; the citizens eagerly ran to arms; the alarm guns were fired, and several partial engagements took place in different quarters. A number of persons were killed or wounded.—Among the killed on the part of the Chouans is one of their chiefs. We vigorously repulsed them. They quitted the city almost as soon as they had entered it. They were pursued towards Rennes.

We have just heard that the Corps de Garde of la Place du Boussay has been disarmed by the Chouans, who threw open the prisons and let the prisoners escape.

REPORT

Of citizen Daverst, forming part of the reinforcement sent to the post of Rennes, relative to the attack upon Nantes.

He declares, that arriving at the Corps de Garde, at the distance of two gun shots from the barrier, and having found the officer, the one belonging to the reinforcement demanded why a sentinel had not been placed at the barrier? He answered that it was not his duty: upon which twelve men of the reinforcement paraded all night before the barrier in order to guard it.

At a quarter before four a number of men appeared at the barrier. Qui Vive? was exclaimed; they answered Colonne mobile (a moveable column) Then the officer went out with two men to reconnoitre—the two unfortunate men were killed and the officer taken. A discharge of at least 200 musquets was fired at the remainder of the guard, which was answered; but finding the impossibility of defending themselves, they retired by La Rue Noire, and the Chouans, as well cavalry as infantry, entered by the main road.—Extract from the Nantes Courier.

LONDON, November 6.

Female fashion for November—1st. Swiss Corset worn over any dress, made of white or other coloured silk, trimmed with pink chenille, and finished on the shoulders with lace. Parisian Cap made of black lace, and trimmed and tied under the chin with a pink ribband; worn very much on the side, so as to shew all the hair on the other side. Ridicule or hand pocket.—2d. Parisian Frock, body and petticoat of pink silk, and the body and sleeves covered with black lace. The train of black muslin. Parisian Cap with ridicule or hand pocket.

Walking dress—Swiss Corset of black velvet, lined blue silk, edged with blue chenille. Bonnet a la repentir, made of black velvet, and trimmed with blue ribband and lace.—Dear Muff.

The prevalent head dresses are—1st. Bonnet of dark brown willow, trimmed, and tied under the chin with blue—2d. Straw hat turned on both sides.—3d. Half-dress muslin cap, with one broad lace border, trimmed with quilled ribbon, and bow behind—4th. Bonnet en cornette, made to fit the head close, and tie under the chin. Bow of any fashionable color.—5th. Lace Cap, made open at top to admit the hair. Rows of pink ribband between the lace.—6th. Dress Turban made of white crape. Crown full and drawn to one side. Finished with green wreath and feather.—7th. Bonnet au Repentir, made of crape, with full crown and bows, with flowers in the centre, broad lace border.—8th. Black velvet Cap, crown quite round: bow at top; deep veil—9th. Dress Turban, made of twisted crape, ornamented with gold and feathers—The prevailing colors are mazareen or navy blue, puce and brown. Velvets are worn in every article of dress, and in cloaks are likely to be favorites for the winter. A new velvet cloak, buttoned before, is just introduced.

The following circumstance may be depended on as a fact: The captain of a West India vessel, returning unexpectedly after several months absence to his home at Deptford, and not finding his Cara Sposa in his parlour, ran up stairs with all the speed of impatient affection to her dressing room—Horror of horrors! A spruce brown wig lay carelessly on the toilette of the absent Lady. Seeing before his face the evident proof, as he deemed it, of his own dishonor, the captain was in a paroxysm of fury. The bell rings violently. The lady's maid makes her appearance. Where is your infamous mistress? To what paramour does that ornament belong? The girl protested, and called Heaven to witness, that her mistress was chaste as ice, as pure as snow—but when she attempted to persuade the irritated husband that the peruke was actually the property of his lady, and that she was in the habit of decorating not his head, but her own, he remained in vacant astonishment till the arrival of his wife: Her perfect innocence of demeanour, her unfeigned joy at his return, her confirmation of the girls narration, and above all the ocular demonstration offered him by the investiture of the alarming appendage on her own person, put an end to his perturbation of mind, and turned all the torrent of his wrath against the capricious demons of fashion which had occasioned it.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JANUARY 15.

Justum et tenacem propositi virum,
Non civium ardor prava jubentium,
Non vultus instantis tyranni,
Mente quatit solida.

For the Gazette of the United States.

Mr. Paymaster Dallas has been accused in the Gazette of the United States of drawing 92,000 dollars from the State Treasury in his office of Paymaster to the Pennsylvania Militia, of placing only 40,000 dollars of this sum to his official account, and the residue to his private account in the Bank of Pennsylvania—of having kept a large portion of this money more than two years in his hands without settling his public accounts with the State—and of having in the mean time drawn so much out of the bank, that his public account as an officer, and his private account taken together, were under a credit of two thousand dollars: whereas, by his own confession, there was at least 22,500 dollars of a balance in his hands due to the State.—It has, therefore, been alledged that public money has been drawn by him from the Bank for other than public purposes.—It has also been asserted that Mr. Dallas, besides his pay as paymaster, has exhibited a charge of commission, to the amount of more than 7000 dollars; and that his accounts are still unsettled.

Mr. Dallas acknowledges that he drew 92,000 dollars—that his accounts are yet unsettled;—he does not deny that part was placed to his official, and part to his private credit in the Bank;—nor that he kept the money for more than two years before he repaid any part of it—nor that he has charged a commission on the sums disbursed;—nor that his Bank account was under, far under, the sum which he really owed to the State Treasury.

In his defence he has endeavored to escape by dragging in the name and authority of Mr. Donaldson; but when the artful questions of Dallas and the ambiguous answers of Donaldson are carefully examined we shall find that there is no real exculpation. Let us take the questions and answers in Mr. D's own order.

1. It is said that no money could be drawn from the State Treasury by a private person, but that advances were made for bounty at the request of members of the Legislature.

Passing the illegality of such advances, we are not told whether the sums thus paid are exclusive or inclusive of the sum of 92,000—nor are we told how the accounts were opened or the money credited in the Bank of Pennsylvania. This could very easily have been done if all was correct—now let the books be examined and we shall see whether Mr. D. took any credit for public money either in his official or private capacity before the 19th September, 1794—the law passed on that day.—Here then is a clear mode of ascertaining the doubtful point—when it is explained let us know why part went to his public account as P. M. the residue to his private account.

2. It is asserted that his accounts for bounty, &c. were exhibited in February 1796, and vouched to the amount of 48,158 dollars—That a Communication in consequence of this exhibition was made to Mr. Dallas and that the accounts were returned to him.

We are not told what the Communication was, whether it was a requisition to settle, or an intimation, that the account could not be received; nor are we told what the &c. means whether it is commissions, or contingencies, or both.

It will not be pretended that the bounty amounted to 48,158 d, and if Mr. Dallas's charge of commission forms any part of this sum it ought to have been specially mentioned, because Mr. Donaldson is certainly too good a man to allow any person a commission on money and pay as an officer at the same time. But why not exhibit these accounts to the State officers before February 1796, and pay over the balance due, when it appears by Dallas's own question that his accounts and vouchers were ready on 6th June 1795—Why all this delay. If the whole balance was then in Bank, why not pay it over? If there then, why not keep it there to be always ready?

3. The accounts and vouchers for pay were rendered on 6th June, 1795, as appears by Nevill's receipt.

Then why not settle with the State officers at this time for all the money not expended in bounty and contingent expences of the Governor's family?—Why delay it till December 1796? To the very moment when Mr. Dallas's appointment as secretary was coming on, and it might be doubtful whether Governor Mifflin would not remember his abuse and desertion of him on the Western expedition and coupling this with his default in money affairs;—turn him out!!!

4. The forage, and retained ration accounts, delayed the settlement at the War-Office. The Accountant could not be brought to settle although great deligence was used, and therefore a fund was kept to meet contingencies.

This specious flourish can deceive none but the ignorant. Congress on the 2d January 1795, passed a law raising the pay of the militia to exactly the sum promised by the State of Pennsylvania, exclusive of bounty. Dallas was made deputy paymaster for the Pennsylvania line, and had all this money at his command. The State Treasury could lose nothing but the bounty; so that according to Mr. Dallas's own account h ought, on the 6th June 1795, to have paid back to our Treasury all the difference between the bounty, &c. 48,158 dollars, and he sum which he draw out 92,000, in other words, he ought to have paid back 43,842 dollars. The State has nothing to do with brage, retained rations, transportation, or accounts of that description. They are paid by the United States—all the accounts are to be settled at the War-Office, and if Mr. Dallas's correspondence is closely examined, the delay of settlement will be attributed to himself and not to the Accountants.

5. The state of the reserved fund was communicated from time to time to the Register and Comptroller and to the Committee of Ways and Means.

This is truly bold and shameful—Why was any State fund reserved, when the U. States had undertaken to pay every thing but bounty? Was there not constantly a readiness in the United States to discharge every demand other than bounty? And was not the sole difficulty in obtaining the receipts of individuals instead of the receipts of regimental and company paymasters? There was no occasion for State funds, and to retain them on this pretext was as wicked as it was ridiculous!

But will Mr. Dallas or will Mr. Donaldson say that there was always a credit in the Bank of Pennsylvania equal to the balance unexpended? No such thing—compare the sums disbursed, the dates of the vouchers, with the diminution of the Bank account and it will easily be seen, whether the public money went out exactly as public debts were paid. This is the touchstone which will try fair-dealing.

6. The sixth and last question and answer are already noticed except so far as relates to retaining money for claims filed! Why are they not paid when presented!? Why file them and keep the claimants in suspence and soliciting payment when there is actually money in Bank? Surely this is not right if the money has really been always in Bank.

This mysterious business should certainly be enquired into by our legislature, who are now in session.—By law every public officer of the state must keep his public accounts in the Bank of Pennsylvania—the unexpended ballance of every appropriation ought at all times to be found there. The man who draws out more than is wanted for public purposes, is guilty of a breach of public trust, and ought to be impeached, disgraced and dismissed from office. By this it is not meant that Mr. Dallas should be impeached for carrying money with him on the expedition; but if on examination it should appear, that after his return in Nov. 1794 he had not always to his credit in the Bank of Pennsylvania the full sum of public money which his vouchers will shew was unexpended, then it must be clear that it went out for other than public purposes. If he charges a commission on the money advanced by the state and by the United States, and at the same time has received pay as paymaster to the line; if he has kept back money which he ought to have promptly returned to the state treasury; if he has alledged that state funds were requisite to meet demands which the United States had assumed and were ready to pay; it will be the duty of the legislature not only to enforce a proper settlement of principal and interest, but to punish the defaulter in such an exemplary manner as will deter every future officer from diverting public money from its proper destination.

CONGRESS.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

TUESDAY, January 13.

The bill intituled "An act to repeal part of an act intituled an act to provide for mitigating or remitting the forfeitures, penalties or disabilities accruing in certain cases therein mentioned," was read the third time, and passed.

A petition of the inhabitants of New Bedford, Massachusetts, praying for the establishment of a post road was read and referred to the committee appointed on the subject of a post-office and post roads.

Mr. D. Foster, from the Committee of Claims to whom were referred the petition of Reuben Calvill, reported that the prayer of the petitioner ought not to be granted—which was concurred in by the House.

Mr Griswold, from the Committee of Revisal and Unfinished business, made a further report, recommending the adoption of a resolution to instruct that committee to prepare and report a bill for continuing in force the act intituled "An act further to suspend the commercial intercourse between the United States and France, and the dependencies thereof."—which was referred to a Committee of the Whole House, and made the order of the day for to-morrow.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the following resolution, viz.

"Resolved, That it is expedient so to amend the act for laying duties on stamped vellum, parchment and paper, as to abolish the offices thereby established for the stamping of vellum, perchment and paper, in the several districts of the United States, and to establish, at the seat of government one general office for that purpose."

Which was agreed to, and ordered to be reported without amendment.

Upon the question in the House to agree to the report of the Committee, Messrs. Nicholas and Hartley spoke against it—and Mr. Harper in favor of it—when the question was put and carried—Ayes 47—Noes 32.

The Committee of Ways and Means were directed to bring in a bill pursuant to said resolution.

MESSAGE OF THE PRESIDENT.

A written message from the President of the United States, by his Secretary, Mr. Shaw, was presented to the House, and read in the words following, to wit

Gentlemen of the House of Representatives,

"As the inclosed letter, from a member of your House, received by me in the night of Saturday, the 11th instant, relates to the privileges of the House, which, in my opinion, ought to be inquired into, in the House itself, if any where, I have thought proper to submit the whole letter and its tendencies, to your consideration, without any other comments on its matter or style.

"But as no gross impropriety of conduct on the part of persons holding commissions in the army or navy of the United States, ought to pass without due animadversion, I have directed the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy, to investigate the conduct complained of, and to report to me, without delay, such a statement of facts as will enable me to decide on the course which duty and justice shall appear to prescribe.

JOHN ADAMS."

United States, Jan. 14, 1800.

The following is the Letter alluded to.

SIR,

Known to you only as holding, in common with yourself, the honorable station of servant to the same sovereign people, and disclaiming all pretensions to make to you any application which, in the general estimation of men, requires the preface of apology, I shall, without the circumlocution of compliment, proceed to state the cause which induces this address.

For words of a general nature, uttered on the floor of this House, and addressed in my official capacity, to the Chairman of the committee of the whole, and urged with a view to effect the reduction of a Military establishment, I have been grossly and publicly insulted, by two officers of the army (or navy, I know not which) with evident intention to provoke me to a conduct which, in some sort, might justify the hostile designs which they manifestly entertained towards me, and from the execution of which, I believe, they were only deterred by the presence of several of my friends (Members of this House) who felt themselves implicated in an insult, which although more particularly offered to one, was certainly levelled at all.

I am acquainted with the name of one only of these unfortunate young men, who appear to have made so false an estimate of true dignity of character; who seem to have mistaken brutality for spirit, and an armed combination against the person of an individual for an indication of courage. He was called, I think, M'Knight; rank unknown; and, to my best recollection, of the navy. Mr. Christie, a member of this house appeared to know him; and that gentleman with capt. Campbell Smith, who, as I understood, endeavored to deter those rash youths from their scheme, and whose conduct would evince, if indeed there were any need of proof, that the character of the man and the citizen is not incompatible with the profession of the soldier, can give an account of the various instances of misconduct which were exhibited by the parties—Mr. Van Rensselaer, the Lieut. Governor of New York, Mr. Nicholson, Mr. Glen and Mr. Macon, of the House of Representatives were likewise present at these transactions.

Having stated the fact, it would be derogatory to your character, Sir, for me to point out the remedy, which it is your province to provide, nor shall I descend from the respect which I owe myself to declare what are not the considerations which govern my conduct on this occasion. So far as they relate to this application addressed to you in a public capacity, they can only be supposed by you to be of a public nature; and it is enough for me to state that the independence of the legislature has been attacked, the majesty of the people, of which you are the principal representative, insulted, and your authority contemned. In their name, I demand that a provision commensurate with the evil be made, and which will be calculated to deter others from any future attempt to introduce the reign of terror into our country. In addressing you in the plain language of a man, I give you, Sir, the best proof that I can afford of the estimation in which I hold your Office and your understanding; and I assure you with truth that I am, with respect.

Your fellow citizen,
JOHN RANDOLPH, jun.

Chamber of the Representatives of the U. S. 11th January, 24th of Independence.

The President of the United States.

Mr. Kittera moved that the message and letter accompanying it, be referred to a select committee.

Mr. Randolph hoped it would not. It was far from his expectation, he said, when he addressed the letter now before the house, to the President, that it would have been made the subject of a communication.—Had he thought the house could have remedied the abuse complained of, he would have entered his complaint here; but he did not conceive it within their jurisdiction; and he was opposed to it as being a bad precedent, which might at some future period, be prostituted to purposes injurious to the country. The power of the commander in chief of the army, in his opinion, was sufficient to afford a remedy, and to restrain men under his command, from giving personal abuse and insult. And he therefore disclaimed any wish that the house should take measures for his protection.

The voice of the House appeared to be unanimous for the commitment, and several members expressed an opinion, that the President, in submitting the subject to the House, had acted judiciously, it being a question on which he could not, dare not decide. It was a constitutional prerogative vested in that house alone, and that House, after having a statement of facts, were to be the sole judges of them. The wish of the complainant to suspend enquiry, ought not to have any weight, for if a member was to be insulted for language made use of in debate, there was an end to all legislation, and they might as well return to their homes at once.

The question for commitment was put and carried, and Mr. C. Goodrich, Mr. Macon, Mr. Kittera, Mr. Sewall, Mr. R. Williams and Mr. Bayard were appointed.

On motion of Mr. Harrison, the House went into a committee of the whole on the bill to reform the Superior Court of the territory of the United States, N. W. of the river Ohio, Mr. Morris in the chair, when the 1st and 2d sections having been read,

Mr. Claiborne moved, that the committee rise, for the purpose of having the bill postponed, which motion was advocated by Mr. Nott, and opposed by Mr Harrison.

The question for rising was put and carried, ayes 45—noes 36.

The committee then rose, reported progress, and asked leave to sit again.

After a short debate, in which Mr. Davis gave his reasons why he hoped leave would not be granted, the question was put and carried.—Adjourned.

THE FOLLOWING

VALUABLE MEDICINES.

Infallible Ague and Fever Drops.

A long eulogium on the virtues of this medicine is unnecessary, as the money will be returned if patient is not relieved—it never having failed in many thousand cases; not one in a hundred has had occasion to take more than a bottle, and numbers not half a bottle.

Hahn's Anti-bilious Pills.

Dr. HAHN's
TRUE AND GENUINE
German Corn Plaister.

An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion.

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, as an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellant minerals (the basis of other lotions) and of unparaleiled efficacy in preventing and removing cutaneous blemishes of the face and skin of every kind, particularly, freckles, pimples, pits after small pox, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ring worms, sun burns, prickly heat, premature wrinkles, &c. The Persian Lotion operates mildly, without impeding that natural, insensible perspiration, which is essential to health—yet its effects are speedy and permanent, rendering the skin delicately soft and smooth, improving the complexion and restoring the bloom of youth; never failing to render an ordinary countenance beautiful, and a handsome one more so.

Sovereign Ointment for the Itch,

Warranted an infallible and immediate cure, at once using; being the most speedy, effectual and pleasant remedy ever offered to the public, and for the satisfaction of the timorous, the proprietor maketh oath, that this ointment does not contain a single particle of mercury or any other pernicious ingredient in its composition, and may be used with the most perfect safety by pregnant women and on infants newly born.

Patent Indian Vegetable Specific,

For the cure of Venereal Complaints of every description.

An extensive trial of near four years has proved the vegetable specific to be effectual in expelling the venereal virus, however deeply rooted in the constitution, and has restored health to many who have been brought to the verge of the grave by the improper administration of mercury. Within this period upwards of eight thousand patients have experienced its salutary effects.

With the medicine is given a description of the symptoms which obtain in every stage of the disease, with copious directions for their treatment, so as to accomplish a perfect cure in the shortest time and with the least inconvenience possible.

HAMILTON's
Worm destroying Lozenges,

Which have, within nine months past, relieved upwards of EIGHTEEN THOUSAND PERSONS of all ages, in various complaints arising from worms and from foulness or obstructions in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar title so commonly complained of, as operating with a degree of violence, sufficient, not only to kill worms, but sometimes to endanger the patient's life; on the contrary, a peculiar excellence of this remedy is, its being suited to every age and constitution, contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent, and is so mild in its operation, that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady, or the tenderest infant of a week old, should no worms exist in the body; but will, without pain or griping, cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders.

At the place of sale may be seen many remarkable cases of cures, the authenticity of which any person may ascertain, either by letter or personal application—not being performed in Europe, nobody knows where—but at home.

Persons wishing to procure any of the above medicines genuine, must apply ONLY as above—and likewise observe, that the signature of Lee & Co. (who are appointed the general agents for the United States) is pasted on the outside of each, without which they cannot be genuine.

At the above place may be likewise had,

GOWLAND's LOTION.

CHURCH's COUGH DROPS,

ANDERSON's PILLS, &c. &c.

Wholesale purchasers allowed a liberal profit by application to Lee & Co. Market street, Baltimore; who will punctually execute all orders.

Just Published,

A COMPENDIOUS SYSTEM

Of Practical Surveying and dividing of land; briefly comprized under the following heads, viz.

TWENTY-THREE Geometrical Definitions, eleven Geometrical Positions, exhibiting to view the properties and dependencies of triangles; followed by problems and examples preparatory to Trigonometry, heights and diſtances. Then fifteen problems and examples neceſſarily previous to calculating a Survey ſucceeded by ſeven ſurveys, the area of the four firſt is found geometrically, and of the whole number by difference of latitude and departure, ſhewing how to take an inacceſſible boundary, find the bearing and diſtance of the cloſing line without running it, alſo the diſtances to an inacceſſible corner from the two adjacent corners, followed by examples of offſets on to winding ſtreams of water, ſhewing how to aſcertain the area without the trouble of meaſuring the windings with chains and inſtruments—a crooked water courſe ſtraitened, and a quantity of land on each ſide found by theſe offſets.

Ten examples of dividing land, with many ſub-diviſions, leading into the moſt critical circumſtances that can occur in practice; an example of Interſections, and an example ſhewing how the bearings of a field may be truly taken where the needle is attracted, altho' the attraction may vary in quantity and denomination at every ſtation; examples ſhewing the method of meaſuring by the chain only. All the rules are clear and explicit. This work contains the tables of difference of latitude and departure and of logarithms.

Orders ſent to Joſeph and James Cruckſhank, Bookſellers, No. 8-, High-ſtreet, Philadelphia, Bonſall and Niles, 173, Market Street, Baltimore, or the Subſcriber in Wilmington (Del.) will be duly attended to.

Thoſe who have the care of ſubſcription papers for this work, are raqueſted to ſend their reſpective numbers as ſoon as poſſible, to whom the quota's will be ſent agreeably to the propoſals.

TERMS

Of Richard Folwell, in Philadelphia,

FOR SUBSCRIBING TO THE

JOURNALS OF CONGRESS,

From the commencement

Of the American War, in 1774, to the preſent time,

INCLUDING

The Reports of Heads of Departments, of Committees, and other Official and Private Papers of that Body, now firſt permitted to be made public.

TERMS.

THE work will be printed on a fine paper, and a new neat tipe, in large octavo.

Each volume will contain above 500 pages neatly bound and lettered.

Uniformity in ſize, paper, and binding, will be obſerved throughout the work; ſo that, while the ſubſcribers become poſſeſſed of a valuable record, an ornament may be added to their libraries.

The price to ſubſcribers will be 2 dolls. 75 cts. per volume, in boards, and 3 dolls. whole bound, but, as the publiſher does not intend to print manmore than the number ſubſcribed for, a conſiderable riſe on the price may be expected to non-ſubſcribers.

Each volume will contain about one third leſs of letter-preſs than the original edition; but, as the publiſher is not yet enabled to determine the extent of the Private Journals, which he may be allowed to make public, he cannot aſcertain the number of volumes which will compriſe the work.

☞ Payments to be made on delivery of each volume.

Subſcribers will have it at their option, either to ſubſcribe for the whole of the Journals, up to the preſent time, or to thoſe only of the Old Congreſs prior to the organization of the Federal Government.

IN all countries, the proceedings in the commencement of their governments, are loſt in darkneſs and obſcurity, owing to a careleſsneſs, in the ſucceeding generation, to preſerve the public records, and the attention of the nation, in theſe rude ages, being called off from their domeſtic concerns, to engage in wars and conqueſt. Of what infinite value would the laws of Alfred be, had they been tranſmitted to our days? Time, that deſtroys every thing, enhances the value of well authenticated public records, and renders them almoſt ineſtimable. It is hoped, that Americans will, therefore, chearfully contribute their aſſiſtance in tranſmitting to poſterity the labours of their anceſtors—founders of the Columbian nation.

 The work will certainly be advanced with expedition and promptitude. The following will ſhow the ſupport it has already acquired:

"That having, in our reſpective avocations, frequent occaſions to recur to the Journals of Congreſs, we experience inconvenience by the ſcarcity of them: That we underſtand that Richard Folwell, printer, of Philadelphia, has had it in contemplation to print that public record; and that he hath obtained partial countenance from many individuals; but that he has delayed proſecuting the work, in expectation of encouragement from government, that may adequately indemnify him. We, therefore, reſpectfully ſolicit, as the publication is neceſſary to be diſſeminated among public bodies, that Congreſs will, in their wiſdom render him ſuch additional encouragement, to that which he has obtained from private individuals, as to enable him to proceed with the work, ſo that your Memorialiſts may be enabled to purchaſe copies of that record for themſelves.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

March 11th, 1799.

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN,

Purſuant to the act of Congreſs paſſed on the 1ſt day of June, one thouſand, ſeven hundred and ninety ſix, entitled "an act regulating the grants of land appropriated for military ſervices, and for the ſociety of United Brethren for propagating the goſpel among the Heathen," and the act ſupplementary to the ſaid recited act paſſed on the ſecond day of March, one thouſand ſeven hundred and ninety-nine——to wit:

I.

THAT the tract of Land herein after deſcribed, namely, "beginning at the North Weſt corner of the ſeven ranges of townſhips, and running thence fifty miles due ſouth, along the weſtern boundary of the ſaid ranges;—thence due Weſt to the Main Branch of the Scioto river; thence up the Main Branch of the ſaid river to the place where the Indian boundary line croſſes the ſame;—thence along the ſaid boundary line to the Tuſcaroras branch of the Muſkingum river at the croſſing place above Fort Lawrence; thence down the ſaid river, to the point where a line run due weſt from the place of beginning, will interſect the ſaid river; thence along the line ſo run to the place of beginning;" has been divided into townſhips of five miles ſquare, and fractional parts of townſhips; and that plats and ſurveys of the ſaid townſhips and fractional parts of townſhips are depoſited in the offices of the Regiſter of the Treaſury and Surveyor General, for the inſpection of all perſons concerned.

II.

The holders of ſuch warrants as have been or ſhall be granted for military ſervices performed during the late war, are required to preſent the ſame to the Regiſter of the Treaſury, at ſome time prior to the twelfth day of February in the year, one thouſand eight hundred, for the purpoſe of being regiſtered; No regiſtry will however be made of any leſs quantity than a quarter townſhip, or four thouſand acres.

III.

The priority of location of the warrants which may be preſented and regiſtered in manner aforeſaid, prior to the 12th day of February in the year one thouſand eight hundred, will immediately after the ſaid day, be determined by lot, in the mode preſcribed by the act firſt recited.

IV.

The holders of regiſtered warrants, ſhall on Monday the 17th day of February, in the year 1800, in the order of which the priority of location ſhall be determined by lot as aforeſaid, perſonally, or by their agents, deſignate in writing at the office of the Regiſter of the Treaſury, the particular quarter townſhips elected by them reſpectively, and ſuch of the ſaid holders as ſhall not deſignate their locations on the ſaid day, ſhall be poſtponed in locating ſuch warrants to all other holders of regiſtered warrants.

V.

The holders of warrants for military ſervices ſufficient to cover one or more quarter townſhips or tracts of four thouſand acres each; ſhall, at any time after Monday the 17th day of February, 1800 and prior to the firſt day of January, 1802, be allowed to regiſter the ſaid warrants in manner aforeſaid, and forthwith to make locations therefor on any tract or tracts of land not before located.

VI.

All warrants or claims for lands on account of military ſervices, which ſhall not be regiſtered and located before the firſt day of January, 1802, are by the ſupplementary act of Congreſs herein before recited, paſſed on the ſecond day of March, 1799, declared to be forever barred.

Given under my hand at Philadelphia, the day and year above mentioned.

OLIVER WOLCOTT.

Sec. of the Treaſury.

The Swift-Sure,

A NEW LINE OF STAGES,

NOW RUNNING BETWEEN

PHILADELPHIA & NEW-YORK,

By the ſhort and pleaſant road of Buſſleton, Newtown, Scotch Plains, Springfield and Newark.

THE excellence of this road, the populouſneſs of the country through which it paſſes, with ſundry other advantages, which render it ſo far preferable to the Old Road through Briſtol, Brunſwick, &c. long ago ſuggeſted the propriety of its becoming the Grand Thorough-Fare from Philadelphia to New York. During the preſent year, a minute ſurvey of it has been taken, and its ſuperiority over the Old Road, both in winter and ſummer, has been clearly aſcertained.—There are good bridges over all the other waters but the Delaware, and here the croſſing is performed with great ſafety and in leſs than half the time required at the Trenton Ferry. The road is ſeveral miles ſhorter than the old road, but this is amongſt the leaſt of its advantages, becauſe daily experience proves to us, that diſpatch as well as comfort in traveling principally depend on the goodneſs of the road and the levelneſs of the country, and, in theſe reſpects, the New Road is, beyond all compariſon, the beſt. It preſents none of thoſe rocky hills, which render the Old Road ſo fatiguing between the Delaware and Newark. The ſoil, too, for the greater part, is ſuch as to produce but little mud in winter, and very little duſt in ſummer, which circumſtance, added to the beauty of the country, and a conſiderable proportion of ſhade, muſt always render traveling in the latter ſeaſon peculiarly agreeable.

The Swift Sure ſtarts from PHILADELPHIA, at 6 o'clock every morning (Sundays excepted) from the GREEN TREE, oppoſite the Lutheran Church, North Fourth ſtreet. It goes through Frankford to Buſtleton, where it ſtops to Breakfaſt; from Buſtletown it goes through Newtown to Penny-town to dinner; from Penny-town through Hopewell, Millſtone, Bound-brook, Quibbletown and Plainfield to Scotch Plains to lodge. The next morning it ſtops at Springfield to breakfaſt, from whence it goes through Newark and arrives at New-York at noon.

From NEW-YORK it ſtarts at 3 o'clock in the afternoon (from Paulus Hook) and arrives at Philadelphia the next evening. For ſeats at New-York, application may be made to Edward Bardin, Old Coffee houſe, to A. Mathieu, corner of Naſſau and John ſtreets, to B. Many, no. 48, Courtlandt, corner of Greenwich ſtreet, and to Michael Little, at his hotel, no. 42, Broad ſtreet.

Fare for paſſengers, Five Dollars.
Way paſſengers 6 Cents per Mile.

Each paſſenger is allowed to take on 14lbs. of baggage carriage free; but all other baggage, taken on by a paſſenger, will be charged at 4 cents per pound weight.

With reſpect to packages ſent on without paſſengers, the proprietors preſume they have adopted a regulation, which, though unknown to other lines of ſtages, they think muſt meet with general approbation. They pledge themſelves to make good every package on the following conditions. The perſon who delivers the package at the office ſhall ſee it entered in the ſtage-book, for which entry he ſhall pay 6 cents; he will then ſtate the value of the package, and pay (excluſive of the carriage) one per cent. on the value, as inſurance, and for which he will receive a receipt. Thus, for inſtance, if he eſtimates his package at one dollar, he will pay one cent, and if at one hundred dollars, he will pay one dollar inſurance, and in like proportion for packages of any other value.

Very few perſons it is preſumed, will diſlike this regulation; it will however, be optionable with every one to avail himſelf of this ſecurity or not. But the proprietors think it right to ſtate very explicitly, that they will be reſponſible for the fair delivery of no package, which is not regularly entered, and for which an inſurance receipt cannot be produced.

In the diſtribution of the route, the greateſt care has been taken to fix on ſuch places and taverns as always afford a good accommodation and entertainment for the paſſengers at the moſt reaſonable rates. The ſtages are well equipped furniſhed with fleet and ſteady horſes, and committed to the care of intelligent ſober and obliging drivers. The proprietors themſelves live at the different towns and villages where the ſtages will ſtop, ſo that the conduct of the perſons they employ is continually an object of their attention.—They take care alſo to ſee that the paſſengers are well provided for and politely treated at the taverns, and that no ſort of chicanery or inſolence is practiſed upon them; in ſhort, they have ſpared neither pains nor expence to render the SWIFT-SURE the very beſt line of ſtages in America.

The line has now run nearly a month, during which time a great number of gentlemen have gone through, both from Philadelphia and New-York. Every paſſenger has found the road to ſurpaſs very far all that has been ſaid of its excellence; and the Proprietors of the Swift Sure are extremely happy to hear the behaviou of their drivers, and the treatment at Taverns ſpoken of with the higheſt ſatisfaction.
